Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 01 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudy with some drizzle overnight. Sunny spells developing through Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Another widely cloudy night. The cloud may be thick enough to produce some patchy drizzle during the early hours, mainly across central parts and over the hills. Coastal areas staying drier and receiving occasional clear spells, especially in the northwest. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Thursday:
After a cloudy start for most, with some patchy drizzle inland, sunny spells developing widely across the country by the afternoon. Feeling warm in the sun. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cloudy with drizzle to start Friday then dry with sunny spells. Sunny spells for most on Saturday, though east cloudier. Turning unsettled into Sunday, with rain and stronger winds arriving.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.